Fall Opening

THERE was a whirl of activity around the third week in September as the Fall term opened with an enrollment that soared past the 650 mark — surpassing last year's record by at least 100. Space was limited for everyone and the College was in a mild dither checking to see that all new students were properly and comfortably situated.

Approximately 190 of the students are new to Juniata's campus with the majority coming in as freshmen. All received a hearty welcome at the Freshman convocation conducted in Oller Hall on September 15.

Freshmen week activities were highlighted by the annual mixer, campus tours, and President's reception interspersed with the customary entrance tests and meetings with the deans. The Class of 1951 was the first to be greeted by the new Dean of Students, J. Melvin Rhodes. General chairman of the week's functions was Dr.

Surveying gangs were not uncommon sights on the campus this Summer either as P. M. "Mike" Snider, director of physical education, conducted a basic course in surveying. Here is Mike, extreme right, giving some problem data to a crew chief as he prepares for a plot survey around the athletic practice fields.

Earl W. Seibert, assistant professor of psychology.

Among the new entrants were five foreign students; Kamaruddin Bey of Afghanistan; Lydia Margarita Chacon and Lusie De Puga of Havana, Cuba; Gunther Ruff of Brussels, Belgium; and Sumiko Shiratsuki, a Japanese-American from Bridgeton, N. J.

In order to house the new students, the College had to do some fancy juggling of its facilities. For example, the second floor of Geiger House is being used to accommodate 12 freshman women. And for the most part, the freshman men are being housed in private homes out in the town. The sixty-five or more married veterans and their families have been located in The Village and in apartments in private homes.

Around the Campus

SKIP'S INN changed hands this summer and "Mom and "Pop" Mierley bid a quiet farewell after eleven years of loyalty to Juniata and its students. . . . Under "Mom" and "Pop" the Inn became a great deal more than a store for purchasing student supplies and refreshments. . . . It became an integral part of the college community, a place to snatch those hours of social life that mean so much. . . . An editorial in the Juniata expressed it this way: "Yes, Skips is a tradition at Juniata, and it is up to the new management to see that it remains as such," and goes on to say that "many of the relationships first established at Skips have lasted through the years."

Campus improvements were numerous during the summer with the major job being the relocation of the home economics department. . . . All food and clothing labs have been installed in the new classroom building and the nursery school has been placed in the former clothing lab. . . . The chemistry department took over the space in Science Hall. . . . Bell Tower was reconditioned, too, with new plastering from the bottom to top. . . . New offices were established for J. Melvin Rhodes, new dean of students, and Paul F. Friend, business manager. . . . Considerable landscaping and painting was done around the campus.

Five members of the college staff attended the first conference of college, seminary and church-employed representatives of the Church of the Brethren at Manchester College, August 17 to 23. Representing Juniata were President Calvert N. Ellis; Harold B. Brumbaugh, assistant to the president; J. Melvin Rhodes, new dean of students; Dr. Earl W. Seibert, assistant professor of psychology, and Prof. Wilbur H. Neff, assistant professor of Biblical studies.

Highlighting the summer artists entertainment at the College was a mother and daughter duo from Harrisburg, Pa., and a pair of talented young Huntingdon musicians. Alice de Ceevee (known in private life as Mrs. Ehrman B. Mitchell) and her daughter, Mimi Mitchell, presented a piano and voice program rich in musical fare and versatility on August 5. On August 18 the College presented in recital Miss Joan S. Strait, a pianist recognized as one of the best to be graduated from Eastman School of Music last June, and Harold G. Hawn, tenor, a student at Eastman.

Dr. Raymond T. Davis, Jr., assistant professor of chemistry, took a six-weeks "Cook's tour" of the British Isles this summer where he viewed first-hand the vital problems facing postwar development in England and Scotland. He reported on his trip in a series of informal, chatty letters to the Huntingdon Daily News.

A senior fellowship in the School of Classical Studies at the American Academy at Rome has been awarded to Dr. Lois V. Williams, instructor in classical languages. Miss Williams of Berwyn, Pa., sailed for Italy in September to begin her one year study. She joined the Juniata faculty in 1943.

The Village, community for married veterans on the Juniata campus, has organized and elected a former Army man from Scottdale, Pa., Richard W. March, as mayor. March, a junior, also is vice-president of his class and his wife, June Cave March, is secretary.

An integrated study of the history of Russia was one of the new courses offered at the College during the Summer term. Soviet Russia's participation in foreign affairs, the Second World War, the state's emergence as a world power were examined in detail in the course taught by Dr. Ernest M. Hall, assistant professor of history.

New Faculty

THE increase in enrollment was coupled with another expansion of the faculty and staff for the opening of the Fall term.

In addition to J. Melvin Rhodes, whose appointment as Dean of Students was effective September 1, there were nine other new men and women in the Juniata faculty family.

Among the newcomers is a former university professor and business executive, Dr. John C. Duncan, who becomes lecturer in economics. Dr. Duncan of Manhasset, Long Island, N. Y., comes to Juniata from Hillyer College, Hartford, Conn., where he served as professor of economics since 1942. He previously taught at Ohio State University, University of Illinois and University of Cincinnati.

After serving as a major in World War I, Dr. Duncan was acting dean of the College of Commerce at the University of Cincinnati. He has been an executive partner of the W. E. Hutton & Co., of Cincinnati and New York. Born in Philadelphia, Dr. Duncan received his B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. He is the originator and editor of "Financial Statistical Table."

Miss Catherine A. Reimard of Danville, Pa., former supervisor of elementary schools in Hanover, Pa., was selected as instructor of elementary education. A graduate of the Pennsylvania State College, Miss Reimard is an experienced teacher in elementary work. She has been a grade school teacher in Dunellen, N. J., Bloomfield, N. J., and Sunbury, Pa., and was elementary principal in Sunbury from 1925 to 1939. Miss Reimard also taught in junior high school at Sunbury and senior high school at Danville. She received her B.S. from Penn State and M.S. from Bucknell.

Two instructors were named in modern languages. They were Miss Newert Shamlian, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Miss Arvilla R. Knuth, Newport, Pa. Miss Shamlian is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College in 1945 and Miss Knuth was graduated from Juniata last June with honors. Both attended Middlebury Spanish School, Middlebury, Vt., this Summer.

Miss Ruth C. Hastings of Cambridge, Md., was appointed as instructor in home economics. She was graduated from the University of Maryland in 1946 and received her masters degree from Columbia University last June.

A former instructor at Detroit Institute of Technology, Oliver C. Bridwell, has been appointed assistant professor of English. Mr. Bridwell, a graduate of University of Michigan, is from Detroit.

Two other members of Juniata's Class of '47 also were added to the staff. Leonard L. Fuoss of Tyronne, is instructor in economics, and Robert W. Johnston of Huntington, has been named assistant to the director of admissions and will work as a field representative.

A former Princeton grid player and coach, Bob Bayer, was named assistant football coach to aid Bill Smaltz. Bob, a Huntingdon businessman now, was graduated from Mercersburg in 1937 and Princeton in 1939, and served four years with the Air Transport Command.

Summer Graduation

TWENTY-THREE men and women received degrees at the College's Summer Commencement held in Oller Hall on August 23. Bachelor of science degrees were awarded to 12 and bachelor of arts degrees to 11 as President Calvert N. Ellis conferred degrees on the 18 men and five women at ceremonies which closed the largest Summer school since 1931.

Bachelor of science degrees: Ray E. Andrews, Mapleton Depot; Donovan R. Beachley, Jr., Hagerstown, Md.; Harry L. Bryant, Holidaysburg; Herbert F. Eisenhart, Perkaspie; Leonard L. Fuoss, Tyronne; Glenn P. Holsinger, Martinsburg; Edward Jahnke, Jr., Pittsburgh; Betty Lu Miller, Huntingdon; Donald K. Miller, Martinsburg; Norman Muckle, Mill Creek; Phillip D. Paterson, Huntingdon; Cornelius F. Strittmater IV, Montoursville.

Bachelor of arts degrees: Iris A. Coffman, Hagerstown, Md.; Kenneth V. Gombert, Mont Alto; Mildred M. Grimes, Bedford; Ralph D. Harritty, Altoona; Clarence M. Hill, Morrisdale; Wilbur C. McClain, Todd; Donald G. Paterson, Juniata; Charlotte R. Stutzman, Johnstown; Ralph Weaver, Huntingdon; S. Elizabeth White, Newton; D. Lloyd Zook, Johnstown.

FALL HOMECOMING

November 8, 1947

IT'S too early to give an analysis of the 1947 football season. And it's too late to go into any further details on the pre-season appraisal of Coach Bill Smaltz' Indians.

No one ventured out on the proverbial limb and said that Juniata would have a winning team this season, but many persons were impressed by the sparkle the team showed in its preliminary drills on campus beginning Sept. 8. There were numerous old faces, including some 13 lettermen, but a host of newcomers began to fit themselves into the picture before the opening game.

Everyone agreed that it would be best to let the season's results speak for what they are worth.

It was going to take a lot of strategy on the part of Smaltz and his assistant, Bob Bayer, to combat some well-coached opposition. With the appointment of Andy Kerr, the veteran mentor who formerly directed the gridders at Colgate, as the new grid coach at Lebanon Valley, coupled with the move of A. A. Stagg, Sr., to assist his son at Susquehanna, the opposition looked even more formidable than last year.

But Bill, the former Penn State passing ace, and Bob, the former Princeton stellar end, have the "makings" for a pretty fair ball club and no one is selling them short.

Sport Shorts

BOB HOLSINGER, leader batter on the Indian baseball team last season, and Tom Kyper, top pitching ace, attended the Boston Braves baseball school in Altoona during the Summer. . . . A former major leaguer, Ben Tincup, was high in his praise of Holsinger. . . . He said: "Of all the players I watched in Altoona, Bob Holsinger of Martinsburg, who was the leading batsman with Juniata College, is the classiest player I have seen." . . . Holsinger was selected on the school's all-star team.

Many of the Indian regular baseballers participated in the Huntingdon City League during the Summer months. . . . Holsinger, Kyper, Eisenhart, Everhart, Lang, and Stever were familiar names in the lineups of the five teams. . . . Even Big Bill Smaltz, chief coach, pitched several games for the V.F.W. nine.

The Juniata Sports Parade

X-Jaycee Patter

AMONG the alumni in the world of sports: Bill Scott '36, a three sport star for the Indians, is the new head football coach at Hollidaysburg, Pa., High. . . . Bill had been serving as aide at Johnstown High. . . . He also has directed sports at Clearfield and Fern-dale schools.

Twenty-seven wins in thirty games is a pretty good basketball record and that's just what George Weaver '38 had down at Wyoming High last year. . . . His Redskins were beaten by Weatherly in the Eastern Regional Class B final by five points.

Babe Matlack '35, former Indian baseball ace, turned in some mighty fine golf this summer. . . . He moved into the finals of the Central Counties golf championship at Centre Hills only to lose in a close match. . . . The Babe tallied a 69 to win medalist honors at his home course in Altoona during the annual club tournament.

Despite his appearance on crutches, Dan Geiser '39 renewed old Juniata acquaintances when he brought his Bridgewater baseball team to Huntingdon last Spring. . . . Dan was suffering a twisted ankle at the time, but still exhibited the old pep and ginger. . . . He is head basketball and baseball mentor at the Virginia college.

Jim Cook '34, former Huntingdon High and Indian athlete now coaching at Ebensburg, Pa., High, is the new president of the Cambria County Health-Physical Education Association.

Regis Walter '40, the Alexandria High baseball coach, will not be with the school this coming term as he has decided to spend another year in college. . . . He will study at the University of Pittsburgh.

FOR A FEW years during the war period the Alumni Office assumed new duties in the special attention of Juniata men and women who were serving the country. By means of the Alumni Bulletin, the Juniatian, the Jay-Ce-O-Gram, and letters, they were kept informed about the news of the campus and the story of their own experiences.

Now, it is of great interest to them and to all Alumni Bulletin readers to learn what has happened to those who have been discharged. Starting with the Summer, 1946, issue brief resumes of Juniata's former servicemen and women were given. The record is continued in this and forthcoming issues until complete.

VIEWS OF THE VET'S VILLAGE

SOMETHING new was added to the Juniata campus last year, but by now the diapers on the washline, baby carriages on the grass, ice cards in the window, and coal in the outside bins are typical signs of everyday life in "The Village."

When the College realized a year ago that it would feel the housing pinch, it arranged with the Federal Public Housing Authority to erect Army surplus buildings. Such housing accommodations have become a real, home-like community for the 20 married veterans and their families.

That's a determined look ex-gob Dave Blough has as he assists wife, Mary, in daily chore.

Everyday is wash day for Mrs. Lou Sileo, but Nicky helps out as Tugger looks on.

The Village from the air showing its proximity to the campus.

What's more typical than a group of ex-servicemen "shooting the breeze" from the semi-horizontal at ease position on the lawn?

Below: The Allens "hit the books." Gen was an Army nurse captain, Don in ordnance. . . . Jack Lang, diamond ace, has well-defined interests: Sandy Lang and baseball. . . . Talk shop, boys! So do the girls, Mrs. Dick Lindenberg (left) and Mrs. Roy Schreffler. Dick consults Roy at desk.

June March might be reading the "riot act" to her hubby, Dick, but he takes plenty of that as mayor of The Village and seems unconcerned. Both are officers in the junior class. Dick is vice-president and June is secretary.

Top to bottom: Who's bluffing on this calculus business? Certainly not T.J. III as Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boyd see.

Steve Hill has his eye on Mamma as Clem lends a hand with the hobby.

It's the open air for the Hambletons: Bill, Pat (both ex-service) and Gerry.

No fueding boys! Nicky Sileo, right, has Steve Hill worried, but not Tugger.

Although their husbands are home from the armed forces and studying instead of fighting, these wives—all working nurses—are engaged in a service of great value to the community of Huntingdon. Here they offer advice to a new mother, Pat Lang. Left to right, Mary Eisler Blough, Vivian Crissman Lindenberg, Mrs. Lang with Sandy, Jean Damm Smith, Alice Williams Schreffler and Genevieve Platner Allen. All live in the Village.

PERSONALS

Contents Noted

Quoting from a recent letter to the editor: "Under personals the CR has me stumped. Is it a degree? Does it mean credit? Or does it mean constant reader? Maybe class recorded? What?"

To relieve other readers in this guessing game, we reveal that the letters "CR" following the italicized names under each class heading mean CLASS REPRESENTATIVE.

Rev. George N. Falkenstein, CR
445 Nevin St., Lancaster, Pa.

Jacob N. Falkenstein, older brother of George N. Falkenstein, '82, died April 26, 1947, at the age of 91. He had an outstanding record for long and successful service in teaching in the public schools in Illinois and Pennsylvania. Mr. George Falkenstein reports that he and his brother entered Brethren's Normal College in the Spring term, 1879, "and he was with me in the school year 1879-80; then he returned to Illinois and was graduated from Mt. Morris College, Mt. Morris, Ill."

1891

Mrs. Elizabeth Blough, CR
Hatfield, Pa.

A prominent member of the Huntingdon County Bar, Warren M. Henderson, died at his home in Huntingdon on June 21, 1947. At 77, he had been in declining health since the death of his wife in February. He was actively engaged in the practice of law with his son, Robert, '19ex, until shortly before his death.

Mr. Henderson spent his early days on the homestead farm at Spruce Creek. Later he became a student at Juniata and then State Normal School at West Chester. At the age of 17 he began teaching school; then he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a ticket office clerk, but in 1891 he decided to study law. He was graduated from law school in 1894 and took up his profession in Huntingdon County in August of that year.

For a number of years, Mr. Henderson was a member of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association. He also was a member of Juniata Lodge No. 117, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Mount Moriah Lodge No. 300, Free and Accepted Masons of Huntingdon. He served Huntingdon Borough efficiently for many years as borough solicitor and he spent some time as sheriff's attorney.

Dr. J. L. Eisenberg, CR
80 W. King St., Shippensburg, Pa.

Jesse C. Sell, a veteran reporter who worked for the Altoona Mirror for 31 years, died June 16, 1947, after a short illness. He was 75. Mr. Sell and his 101-year-old father, The Rev. James A. Sell of Martinsburg, have been well-known throughout the area.

The one-time lawyer began his newspaper career with the Altoona Times in 1900. He later reported news for the Altoona Tribune, and served as city editor and managing editor for the old Altoona Gazette. Mr. Sell joined the Mirror in 1916. He was author of a Blair County history published in 1910 and was a past president of the Blair County Historical Society.

Dr. Clyde V. Mierley, CR
1528 Mifflin St., Huntingdon, Pa.

Dr. William I. Book, professor emeritus, University of Pennsylvania, has his retirement days well-filled with church and community activities. He is representative from the Southeastern district of the Church of the Brethren on the Juniata College Board of Trustees. His term of office is for three years and he follows Dr. Irwin S. Hoffer of Ambler. Dr. and Mrs. (Zella Benedict), '93, Book continue to reside at 72 Wynnedale Road, Narberth, Pa.

Fete for Class of '92

Five of the six living members of the Class of 1892 were entertained at several gatherings during the summer in Shade Gap and Chambersburg. Included among those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hanawalt, LaVerne, California; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Miller, Confluence, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Swan, St. Thomas, Pa.; J. A. Myers, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Mamie Harper Swan of Shade Gap.

The only absent member was Jacob S. Harley who now resides in Sebring, Fla.

Prof. Lloyd H. Hinkle, CR
Bedford, Pa.

From India, J. M. Blough reveals that "it is now over 43 years since we came here as your representatives. This year I am chairman of the Church of the Brethren Mission, and also of the joint council of the church which manages the work of the Mission now. . . . India is going through a great change politically, but the Lord's work thus far continues to go forward without hindrance." He says that he and Mrs. Blough are in good health. Their address: Vyara, via Surat, India.

1901

Mr. Harry W. Wagner, CR
315 16th St., Huntingdon, Pa.

C. H. "Chal" Hennen is still operating a store in Manor Hill, Pa. For quite a few years he taught school in Petersburg, West Township, Barree Township and Logan Township. When he quit teaching he worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad before opening his store.

1902

Mr. J. O. Bergantz, CR
610 Penn Ave., Huntingdon, Pa.

Kenzie Bagshaw of Hollidaysburg, has been elected president of the Pennsylvania Brown Swiss Breeders Association for the 20th consecutive year. He was the first president of the organization.

1907

Hon. Chester Fetterhoof, CR
701 Warm Springs Ave.,
Huntingdon, Pa.

From Bay City, Texas, Roy G. Wertz writes: "As years go by it is not difficult to appreciate the value of the influence of the training received at Juniata. It was not the learning received from books . . . but it was the high standards of morals and ethics which pervaded the atmosphere that was the most valuable."

Mr. Wertz is now executive vice president of the Gulf Coast Water Co., engaged exclusively in irrigating rice farms. His company has been watering about 40,000 acres of rice during the last several years. He went to Texas in 1928 and claims "it has been a good move." Mr. Wertz further states: "We have enjoyed our residence here and would not come back to the cold winters to live even though there is still a longing for the beautiful scenery of dear old Pennsylvania."

After a very busy active life, Mrs. Elva Klingler Stump and her husband are relaxing and enjoying their home in Louisville, Ohio. Mr. Stump retired last January because of his health and Mrs. Stump resigned her mission work in West Virginia.

Miss Lillian M. Evans, CR
727 Washington St., Huntingdon, Pa.

The newly created post of controller of Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., has been given to Conrad E. Fogelsanger '10ex who also is a Wilson trustee. Mr. Fogelsanger joined the staff of the Peoples National Bank of Shippensburg following graduation from Juniata Academy. He was an executive in the Valley National Bank of Chambersburg from 1926 until 1944, serving first as assistant cashier and later as cashier, vice president and director. In 1940, Mr. Fogelsanger was elected to membership on the Wilson board of trustees.

1916

Mr. Foster Gehrett, CR
458 Arden Road, Pittsburgh 16, Pa.

"Living in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley of Virginia" seems to be a refreshing thought from Mrs. Gladys Benedict Layman. Her address is Route 1, Box 270, Roanoke, Va. Her daughter, Betty, was graduated from Juniata in June 1947 Commencement exercises.

1918

Miss Rebecca Barrick, CR
521 12th St., Huntingdon, Pa.

The Women's League of Juniata College in Huntingdon elected Rebecca Barrick president for 1947-48 year to succeed Mrs. W. Emmert Swigart, '06 A.B.

An ardent advocate of scientific purchasing, Dr. Martin A. Brumbaugh, of Bristol Laboratories, Syracuse, N.Y., is nationally known for his work in the field of quality control as supervised by purchasing. His work consists mainly in supervising the installation of Quality Control procedure in the various plants of Bristol Laboratories.

Dr. Brumbaugh, formerly professor of statistics at the University of Buffalo, is chairman of the editorial board of the American Society for Quality Control, and manages the Society's bi-monthly publication.

Mr. Raymond A. Mickel, CR
97 Hudson St., Hudson, Ohio

Raymond A. English, 1800 Washington St., Huntingdon, was nominated for the office of County Commissioner in the September primary election in Huntingdon this year. He has been in the clothing store business for 31 years—for the past four years in his own business.

1920

Prof. J. Elmer Butts, CR
Martinsburg, Pa.

William McK. Wright, executive secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Milton, Pa., died March 3, 1947, at the peak of an active career in which he engaged in every local movement that had as its objective the betterment of the town or its citizens—particularly its youth. He was 50.

An editorial in the Milton Evening Standard expressed it in this manner: "Although not a native of Milton—in fact, he had lived here only since 1935—Duke Wright was a driving power in promoting the good things in life. A Y.M.C.A. and church worker at heart, he devoted so much of his energy to the work of these institutions that several times his health was threatened. . . . Duke Wright's death is an irreparable loss to the young people of the community. . . . Milton's youth has lost a "best friend."

A former student at the College, Lt. Col. Agnes A. Resch ex '16 recently had her name forwarded to the Senate by the President for permanent commission in the Army Nurses Corps of the Regular Army. Commissioned in 1922, Miss Resch's career has been marked with responsibilities and a steady rise in rank. In 1941 she was promoted to captain and became head of the Camp Shelby, Miss., hospital. In 1943 she became a major and director of nurses for the 12th Hospital Center in England. She was promoted to her present rank in January, 1945.

Born in Martinsburg, W. Va., Mr. Wright moved to Waynesboro where he attended School. He was an athletic leader in basketball, track, football and baseball while at Juniata and later coached at Waynesboro High School.

Mr. Wright was secretary of the Hagerstown, Md. Y.M.C.A. for eight years; general secretary at Freeland for four years; and executive secretary at Milton since 1938. He was a lay leader in the First Methodist Church, a member of Rotary, and a thirty-second degree Mason. Prominent in state and district Y.M.C.A. circles, Mr. Wright was president of the North Central District Y.M.C.A. Secretaries' Association.

Prof. Frank Magill, CR
214 Spruce St., Huntingdon, Pa.

One of America's outstanding churchmen and religious writers, Dr. Robert E. Speer, returned to his native Huntingdon this summer to address union services of all borough churches. Now 80 years old, Dr. Speer is still an active churchman and lecturer. He has been active in the national Presbyterian organization for more than 50 years and served as secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions from 1891 to 1937.

FOLLOW YOUR INDIAN TEAM

FROM the kick-off with Westminster at College Field on October 4 until the closing minute of the Lebanon Valley game on November 22, the Juniata football schedule may well be crammed with excitement this Fall. The Indian team meets six of its last year's opponents plus one newcomer.

Alumni Homecoming will be November 8 with Ursinus as the attraction and big things are planned at Huntingdon for that day.

Here's the Schedule:

Oct. 4	Westminster	Huntingdon, Pa.
Oct. 9	Alliance	Erie, Pa.
Oct. 25	Susquehanna	Selinsgrove, Pa.
Nov. 1	Alfred	Alfred, N. Y.
Nov. 8	Ursinus	Huntingdon, Pa.
Nov. 15	Albright	Reading, Pa.
Nov. 22	Lebanon Valley	Huntingdon, Pa.

Plan now to cheer your Indian team to victory this fall.

Report From ETO

LAST Spring, a letter from Major M. L. (LeRoy) Simkins '42 came in from Headquarters, United States Forces, European Theater, carrying some interesting information about "how it was done" in this matter of ammunition disposal.

Major Simkins, by the way, was chief of the ammunition division in the office of the Theater Chief of Ordnance, and was well-acquainted with the work he was talking about. But let's have the Major relay the story:

"When Germany surrendered, vast quantities of their munitions came into possession of the U. S. Army. However, with redeployment and the pressing need for establishing occupational policies little was done with the captured enemy ammunition except to guard it. In May 1946, the Army undertook the task of destroying it in place. Within a few weeks it was obvious this method was much too slow and dangerous.

"The Ammunition Division was then given the job of finding a faster, more economical way. After much research and two months experimenting we came up with the idea of converting the ammunition into consumer's goods. Our pilot plant had been successful in converting the propellant powders into plastics, lacquer and glues; the explosive charges into fertilizer and commercial dynamite; fillers such as phosphorous into matches; as well as releasing critical metals.

"This idea was promptly adopted by military government which continued to turn the ammunition into those items most needed for recovery of the German economy."

The Major then recalls that "this did us out of a job as we became purely technical advisers with military government doing the actual operating."

Hopping around the country seems to be one of Mary Louise Koch's principal extra-duty activities. She writes that since the beginning of 1947 she has been in New Haven, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Hartford, Manchester, Portland and Washington. Her latest address was 801 Southern Building, 15th and H Streets, N.W., Washington 5, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. (Charlotte Young) Donald W. Clem observed their first wedding anniversary on August 31, 1947. They were married a year ago in the Frederick Church of the Brethren, Frederick, Md. At that time, Mrs. Clem was secretary to the director of student personnel at Hood College and her husband was attending University of Maryland.

Miss Martha J. Swigart, daughter of Mr. '06 A.B., and Mrs., '27ex, W. Emmert Swigart of Huntingdon, became the bride of Capt. Marlin K. Gingrich of Lebanon in the Stone Church of the Brethren on May 3, 1947. Dr. C. C. Ellis, '25 D.D., performed the ceremony. Preceding the service, Miss Mary Ruth Myers, '38 A.B., of the college faculty presented an organ recital. William E. Swigart, Jr., '37 B.S., brother of the bride, was best man.

The Swigart home was the scene of a delightful reception after the ceremony. Then the newlyweds left for Seattle, Wash., where they departed for Tokyo, Japan, as Captain Gingrich will complete his service in the Army Air Force.

Captain Gingrich attended Juniata College and is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh in the School of Dentistry. On August 7, 1942, he entered the Army Air Force and was commissioned a second lieutenant. On June 13, 1943, he resigned his commission and enlisted in the Reserve Corps. Miss Edith V. Bare, last member of one of Mt. Union's oldest families and a retired teacher, died at her home in Allenport, Pa., April 13, 1947. Miss Bare taught for 30 years in the Mt. Union schools where she was known by everyone as "Miss Edith."

Both of Miss Bare's parents, John and Evelyn (Shaver) Bare, belonged to old Mt. Union families. Her father discovered the silica rock in the mountains near Mt. Union and found glass sand in rocks near Mapleton. Miss Bare had retired from her teaching career in order to care for her only brother, Lloyd Bare, who died a number of years ago.

Dr. Samuel H. Ziegler, professor of education at Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa., died March 9, 1947, in Allentown Hospital. He had been a member of the college faculty 21 years and was 67 years old. Widely known as an educator, Dr. Ziegler was at one time president of the College Teachers of Education and was a member of numerous educational groups.

Graduated from Juniata when it was a preparatory school, Dr. Ziegler taught school for several years before he furthered his formal education. He was graduated with honors from West Chester State Teachers College, then a normal school, in 1902; received his bachelor of arts degree from Ursinus College in 1910, and his master's degree from the same institution in 1912. In 1923 he was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree by University of Pennsylvania.

The Alumni Bulletin of Cedar Crest College wrote of Dr. Ziegler's death as follows: "For alumnae upon their return to our 'hilltop,' and for students, Cedar Crest will not be the same without Dr. Ziegler. Memories of Dr. Ziegler will linger long about our campus."

Dr. Ziegler joined the staff at Cedar Crest in 1926 and, in point of service, was one of the oldest members of the faculty. He began his career in education in the public schools of Limerick Township, Montgomery County, in 1898. Later he taught in the Ephrata, Abington, Reading and West Philadelphia High Schools and, for nine years prior to going to Cedar Crest, was director of history and civics in the junior and senior high schools of Cleveland.

Do You Know Our ABCs?

Accuracy . . .

Brevity . . .

Clarity . . .

YES, when the Alumni Association publishes its next Alumni Record of Juniata College, it will stress accurate . . . brief . . . clear information.

Publication of a complete catalog of graduates and non-graduates of Juniata is being planned for the near future. Every effort will be made to bring the record up to date with names, addresses, educational data, and facts pertaining to life work.

The accuracy of this volume will be measured in the cooperation obtained from every past and present Juniata student.

When the Alumni Association sends you its questionnaire for the Alumni Record (not to be confused with the Service Record of World War II) kindly give it top priority and send the completed form to the Alumni office by return mail.
